

Join the 22nd Street Redevelopment Corporation for a "22nd Street Soul Food Festival"

Saturday, September 11th at the St. Petersburg Clay Company
420 22nd Street South
from 10am until 6pm

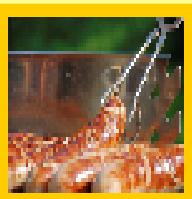

Featuring Soul Food, a DJ playing traditional Jazz and Gospel music and the History of 22nd Street
Free Admission & Free Parking

Inviting the entire community and all former students from:

- Campbell Park Elementary
- Davis Elementary
- Gibbs High School
- Happy Workers
- Headstart
- Immaculate Conception
- Jordan Park Elementary
- King's Academy
- Melrose Elementary
- Perkins Elementary
- Sixteen Street Junior High
- Southside
- St. Joseph's
- Wildwood Elementary

Calling all Vendors...
If you think you make the best ribs, fried chicken, deviled eggs crab shala, collard greens, potato salad or sweet potato pie, call us today to become a vendor! We will let the public decide who the winner is!

St Petersburg's Most Historically Rich African-American Historical & Cultural District...
Now Accepting Vendor Applications...Deadline August 23rd

- All Food Vendors $75 for a 10 x 10 space
- other Small Business $50 for a 10 x 10 space (If you need additional spaces $25 per space)
- At Home Business $25 for a 10x 10 space
- Non-profits $10 for a 10x10 space

To become a vendor or volunteer call Rinita Anderson at 22nd Street Redevelopment Corp. (727) 455-5130

Email: 22ndstreetrdc@gmail.com or call

Vanessa Diana, St. Petersburg Clay Company
(727) 896-2529 Email: Stpctecloy@stpeteclay.com

St. Petersburg Clay Company
"We Make Dirt Look Good."